FORD AND CIO
UNION ONLY 2
CENTS APARTWAGE NEGOTIATIONS
TO BE RESUMED
THURSDAY

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Ford Motor company and the CIO United Auto Workers were only two cents an hour apart tonight in their efforts to settle wage, increase issues affecting 109,000 Ford workers.

The Ford company disclosed that it had offered the union a 17½ cent an hour increase—about 14.5 per cent—while the union countered with demands for a 19½ cent boost, equivalent to 16.1 per cent over Ford's average pay of $1.21 an hour.

The negotiators have recessed until Thursday.

A Ford statement revealed for the first time that the UAW has receded from its original demands for a 30 per cent wage rate increase from Ford, the same figure originally asked of General Motors and Chrysler corporation.

Deadline January 21

The union, in announcing willingness to accept the 19½ cent boost, followed the recommendations which President Truman's fact-finding board laid down Thursday in the case of 175,000 striking General Motors workers.

There the board suggested a 19½ cent boost, equivalent to 17.2 per cent, but the corporation rejected the proposal. The union's GM council Sunday voted to accept the compromise "in the public interest" and called on President Truman to obtain corporation acceptance of the compromise.

It said that if such acceptance is not forthcoming by January 21, the union will revert to its original demands for a 30 per cent boost.

The president, at his press conference today, expressed hope that GM will accept the fact-finding proposal.

He told newsmen that if his fact-finding legislation had been accepted, the General Motors strike would have been settled now. He did not amplify his views.

General Motors spokesmen said they had "absolutely no comment" on the president's statement.

Today's disclosure of the counter-proposals in the Ford case marked the first break in wage negotiations since December 18 when Ford offered a 15 cent an hour boost, which was said was equivalent to 12.4 per cent.

"Jokers" Avoided
This was turned down by the union, which asserted that the company offer was based on condition that it reach certain production levels before the pay increases were to go into effect. A union spokesman said then the offer "was full of jokers."

The Ford company, in making today's offer of a 17½ cent increase, emphasized that "it is of course contingent upon a workable agreement between the union and company on company security, worker productivity and representation."

A Ford spokesman said the offer was made last Friday and was "to take effect when the company reaches volume production, which we believe should be within the next two months."

The Ford statement said "it is particularly significant in view of the fact that Ford is already paying an average of nine cents an hour more than its largest competitor."

Bugas said the "Ford company is anxious to bring these negotiations to a successful conclusion as soon as possible. We want to make more cars, provide more jobs in effect, to expedite reconversion to the limits of our capacity."

Jackson Gets
Set To Stage
McKay Trial

BY ROBERTA APPLEGATE
Jackson, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Jackson county court attaches worked feverishly today to prepare for the opening here Wednesday morning of the liquor graft conspiracy trial of Frank D. McKay of Grand Rapids and his four co-defendants.

Judge John Simpson Monday ordered the trial transferred here from Ingham county circuit court because of stories of alleged tampering with Ingham county jurors.

Judge Simpson, presiding judge of Jackson county, is assigned to hear trials growing out of the Ingham county one-man grand jury investigating charges of graft in the state government.

The trial will be held in the large, ornate municipal auditorium which normally seats 1,800.

On trial with McKay, charged with a conspiracy to corrupt the state liquor control commission between 1938 and 1940 are William H. McKeighan, former mayor of Flint; Fisher L. Layton, Flint politician, and Charles and Earl A. Williams, former Detroit liquor agents.

Judge Simpson ordered 75 names added to the regular jury list, bringing to 102 the number from whom the jury to hear the case will be chosen.

INVESTIGATOR APPEARS

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—Thomas Crawford, of Grand Rapids, one-time special investigator for former Attorney General Tom Reed, appeared before Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash here tonight to answer charges of tampering with prospective jurors for the liquor conspiracy trial of Frank D. McKay and four co-defendants.

Crawford's sudden appearance with his attorneys was announced by Ingham County Prosecutor Victor C. Anderson as Grand Rapids police were searching for Crawford to serve the tampering warrant.

AUDIT REVEALS
UNLISTED BARSThree Unlicensed Clubs
Found In Hotel; Fees
Of $250 Demanded

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—The state liquor control commission has demanded the payment of license fees from three private Detroit clubs which an auditor general's department audit disclosed to be selling liquor without a license.

Chairman John P. Aaron said the clubs were the Downtown Republican club, the National Variety club and the Standard club, all located in the Book-Cadillac Hotel. He said payment of the $250 license fee per bar had been requested Jan. 8.

Auditor General John R. Morrison disclosed the report that the clubs were unlicensed as the climax of a dispute with Richard C. Shepler, an accountant who resigned and charged that Morrison had attempted to force him to delete mention of the discovery from an audit of the commission's books.

Morrison said he did not order the matter deleted but desired first to learn whether it was an isolated instance, whether other Detroit and outstate hotels permitted the same situation and whether it was illegal.

Aaron said Shepler reported the matter to a commission attorney Dec. 10 and that on Dec. 11 the commission wrote to all hotels asking them to list the number of bars on their premises. The Book-Cadillac, he said, was the only one reporting the existence of unlicensed bars and the commission immediately ordered them to pay the license fee.

Stassen Books Two
Talks In Michigan

Detroit, Jan. 15 (AP)—Former Minnesota Governor Harold E. Stassen will address a Lincoln Day luncheon at the Book-Cadillac hotel here Feb. 8, according to an announcement by James Lyons, Wayne county Republican chairman.

Following the Detroit luncheon, Stassen will go to Kalamazoo for a Lincoln Day banquet at which he also will be principal speaker.

Half-Year Plates
Come Out Monday

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Sale of half-year automobile license plates for 1946 will begin next Monday in the state department's 190 branch offices, Secretary of State Herman H. Dignan said today.

The plates, which expire Aug. 31, will have white numerals on a maroon background.

Discharge Lag Saved
Army From Collapse,
Eisenhower Explains

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower quieted some, but not all, of the demobilization din in congress today by explaining that if discharges hadn't been slowed down "we would literally have run out of army."

A cross section of the national legislature, which is instituting a committee investigation of why troops are demonstrating and constituents are writing letters, crowded into an auditorium to hear the army chief of staff give the war department's views.

With a manuscript and charts, Eisenhower made these salient points in his hour-long talk.

The war department has ordered that by April 30 all enlisted men with 45 points or two and a half years service either be dis-

LINER ATHENIA
SINKING SOLVEDNazis Admit A German
Submarine Torpedoed
British Vessel

BY NOLAND NORGAARD

Nuernberg, Germany, Jan. 15 (AP)—The mystery of the sinking of the British liner Athenia with the loss of 30 Americans at the start of the war was solved publicly today before the International Military Tribunal by Nazi admission that a German submarine torpedoed the ship.

The story of the Athenia came from two sources—a pre-trial affidavit by Grand Aom. Karl Doenitz, one of 22 ranking Nazis on trial before the tribunal, and the official German naval diary. The affidavit and portions of the diary were placed in the tribunal records.

On Nov. 17, 1945, Doenitz swore that the Athenia was sunk by the German submarine U-30 on the day that Britain entered the war. Of the 1,500 passengers on the liner, 113 died.

The Nazis charged immediately after the sinking that the Athenia was destroyed by the British themselves in a plot to push the United States into the war on Britain's side.

Grand Adm. Erich Raeder, commander-in-chief of the German Navy, the official German Navy diary showed, directed the naval command to forge the U-30 to conceal the U-boat sinking of the Athenia.

Powers Of China's President May Be
Curtailed For Unity

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Jan. 15 (AP)—The elder statesman of Chinese Communism laid before the unity conference today a plan for curtailing drastically the powers of China's president—now Chiang Kai-shek.

Agee Tung Pui-wu presented the Communist reply to the National delegation's program for reorganizing a peace-time government as both sides renewed charges of violating the truce.

Chou En-lai, the Communist truce negotiator, also met with Gen. George C. Marshall, special U. S. envoy. It was reported he had complained against the alleged violations, "which a government spokesman denied had occurred."

Tung proposed to the political consultation (unity) conference that all orders of the president—emergency or otherwise—be subject to the approval of the reorganized state council.

Schools In Flint
Closed By Strike;
Mediation Sought

Flint, Mich., Jan. 15 (AP)—A union strike-strategy committee directing a walkout of maintenance men which closed 23 of Flint's 44 public schools today decided tonight to seek state conciliation in the dispute with the board of education.

The board previously had recommended establishment of a fact-finding committee to study the demands of the CIO's state, County and Municipal Workers Union. The union is demanding a ten-cent hourly pay increase, a union shop and conversion of a $10-a-month cost-of-living bonus into a permanent 5-cent hourly wage raise.

At the request of Foss Baker, secretary-treasurer of the union's state organization, the State Labor Mediation Board appointed Conciliator Robert Lomasney to lend a hand in the dispute.

charged or aboard ship returning home. By June 30, all men with 40 points or two years of service must be out or on the way out. (The present score is 50 points or three and a half years service.)

The "causes of confusion" about demobilization are two: "The nation's release from the urgency of war started an emotional wave to get men out of the army" which has reached the "proportions of near-hysteria." The army moved with "almost incredible speed" in bringing home men between V-J day and the end of the year, releasing 5,000,000 men or 80 per cent of the army strength on V-J day.

Foreign commitments, including maintenance of armies of occupation, and the guarding and disposal of equipment now require 622,000 troops in Europe and 865,000 in the Pacific. By July 1 these requirements will be cut to 307,000 in Europe and 375,000 in the Pacific. These figures are "pared down to the bone . . . we can function with no less." The replacement program is dragging.

"In no question involving the GI will I ever appear except as his friend and his advocate, although I may be of the 'brass'."

Eisenhower's law-making audience listened attentively, then heard the navy state its case through Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, and Vice Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, chief of the bureau of personnel.

The navy, subject to nowhere near the heat applied to the army, presented its record briefly, saying it had promised to release one out of every three men by the end of 1945 and had more than met that schedule.

ATOM WEAPONS

Urged By Statesmen
At UNO Session

BY JACK SMITH

London, Jan. 15 (AP)—Use of atomic weapons to keep the peace was suggested to United Nations General Assembly delegates today as world statesmen pleaded for rapid establishment of a commission to control atomic energy.

Australian Navy Minister N. J. O. Makin, destined to become the first president of the all-powerful Security Council which will control the world police force, said in a statement there was "nothing in the nature of atomic weapons which excludes them" from the police force arsenal.

The suggestion brought a quick reply during the general policy debate from Netherlands Prime Minister Wilhelm Schermerhorn, who asserted that a peaceful world must be built upon "moral principles," and cautioned against attempting to achieve international cooperation through fear.

The Security Council, faced with the tasks of setting up atomic energy controls and preventing another war, will hold its first meeting on Thursday. Its agenda provides that it shall issue a directive to the military staff committee instructing it to organize the international police force.

Mine Blast Kills 14;
Miracle Spares 200

Welch, W. Va., Jan. 15 (AP)—Thirteen men were killed and another died subsequently in a hospital, while more than 200 escaped today in the most unusual catastrophe recorded in a century of coal mining in West Virginia.

Twenty-two additional men, working deep inside the Havaco No. 9 mine of the New River Poca-hontas Consolidated Coal company were injured in an explosion which was so great that it wrecked buildings in the immediate area.

School children in a building 500 feet away were injured by flying glass. Five women and children in the company grocery store were taken to a Welch hospital for treatment of various injuries resulting from the terrific blast.

Thirteen of the 14 known victims apparently were killed outright, while Luther Tolley, 34, of Havaco, died several hours later in Grace hospital.

Five of the 22 injured men were discharged after treatment and returned to the mouth of the

TAX REVISION
SPECIAL TERMCHANGES CAN'T BE CONSIDERED NOW,
SAYS KELLY

Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Tax revision was ruled out of the special legislative session today by Governor Kelly who declared that changes in Michigan's financial structure cannot be considered "irrespective of what needs may be established."

He told two legislative finance committees that they were proceeding "on the only proper assumption" in considering only unappropriated funds and the surplus expected to accrue during the current biennium when they take up the state's building requirements and monetary aid to local governmental units.

The state's treasury will have a surplus estimated at $27,600,000 on June 30, 1947.

Requests Total $11,993,200

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance and House Ways and Means Committee listened to requests for $11,993,200 from Michigan State College, $391,775 from the state police, $2,874,200 from the corrections commission and $2,652,000 from the Juvenile Institute Commission, all in the form of building programs.

Michigan State asked $300,000 to add to a previously appropriated $700,000 for a new classroom building, $10,618,200 in other new instructional construction and $1,075,000 for a married veterans housing project and short course dormitory.

Dr. John A. Hannah, college president, said the enrollment has grown to 7,223 students, compared with a previous high of 6,776 in 1940, and that veterans alone for 1940, 2,000 or more in the spring quarter.

The number of veterans has increased from 600 in the fall term to 2,400 in the winter term and 94 per cent of them are Michigan residents, he added.

Need Urgent

Hannah declared that the building program "will enable us to care for 9,000 students and we will have that many even after the GI's are gone." He said the college is not going to accept out-of-state enrollees "unless they are excellent students."

"We are going to take care of Michigan students first and if facilities are left over will take care of the others," he asserted.

In his statement to the legislators, Kelly said he was convinced that "immediate legislation was imperative" in the fields of education and care for the mentally ill and "cannot await the next regular session of the legislature in January, 1947."

Garret T. Heyns, director of corrections, presented a program including $1,135,700 for the State House of Correction and the Marquette Branch prison, $914,500 for the reformatory at Ionia and $824,000 for the Southern Michigan prison at Jackson.

SAILOR ON STAMP

Central Lake, Jan. 15 (AP)—A new three-cent stamp honoring Navy bears the picture of a Central Lake sailor, Robert C. McKeiver, who has served in the Navy 12 years five of which he has been overseas.

The "miracle" aspect of the explosion was that with so many in the blast area, so few were killed or injured. In most catastrophes of this kind, seldom do more than a few of the trapped come out unscathed.

All through the day as the familiar disaster crowd of relatives, nurses and others assembled around or within the roped-off area, workers emerged from the wrecked workings.

Most of them walked upright, unaided. Some appeared dazed and leaned heavily on their buddies. Others had to be half-carried or dragged.

The Havaco operation normally employs about 500 men. None of the injured appeared to have suffered severe injuries but many of them were in a state of shock.

Washington Blamed
By Adm. Kimmel For
Pearl Harbor Loss

BY WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel asserted today that Washington had information pointing to both the time and place of Japan's 1941 Pearl Harbor attack, but withheld it from him, the Pacific Fleet commander.

Had he known that Washington knew, Kimmel told the senate-house investigating committee, he would have ambushed at sea the Japanese task force whose planes bombed and burned eight battleships and 10 lesser craft in a surprise raid on their Hawaiian anchorage.

Kimmel, silent for four war years, told his view of the Pearl Harbor story in public for the first time. His testimony at previous investigations had been secret.

Told by Chairman Barkley (D-Ky) to go ahead in his own fashion, Kimmel, read a 25,000-word statement.

At its outset, he said he would "describe how the Pacific Fleet was deprived of a fighting chance to avert the disaster of Dec. 7, 1941, because the Navy department withheld information which indicated the probability of an attack at Pearl Harbor at the time it came."

The argument he then developed rested up these two main contentions:

1. Intercepted and decoded Japanese military messages from September 24 to Dec. 7, 1941, concerning ship movements and berthings in Hawaii all pointed to Pearl Harbor as the objective of an attack. He cited particularly a Sept. 24 message from Tokyo to a Honolulu agent directing that, for purposes of ship reports, Pearl Harbor be divided into five areas. Navy and war department witnesses have acknowledged that, in hindsight, this message might be interpreted as indicating the Japanese were making a bombing plot of the harbor.

2. Intercepted Japanese diplomatic messages pointed to the time of attack. Among these, there were messages advising Ambassador Nomura and Special Envoy Kurosu that Nov. 29 was absolute deadline for concluding, one way or another, their "peace negotiations" with the United States. These "time messages" ended with one early Sunday, Dec. 7, advising that Japan's note to this country should be delivered at 1 p. m., Washington time.

The committee heard Kimmel after a recess since Jan. 5, taken to permit its new counsel to familiarize himself with the record.

His last witness was Stark who contended Kimmel received "adequate information" so that he should have been on guard against an attack. Stark cited in particular a message he sent Nov. 27 beginning, "this is a war warning."

Government Forces
Reopening Of Food
Stores In Argentina

Buenos Aires, Jan. 15 (AP)—Argentina's military government forced the opening of a number of food stores today, denting the solid front of a three-day lockout by industry and commerce in protest against the government's labor policies.

Gen. Filomeno Velazco, chief of the federal police, said 13,000 of Buenos Aires' 36,000 business establishments had been reopened. He said the sale of food was "normal" in the capital and that other business firms would be opened gradually.

The lockout was directed against the government's decree ordering a year-end bonus to workers equivalent to a month's pay and salary increase, employers' spokesmen said.

State Of The Union
Message Cancelled;
Report Comes Later

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—President Truman today cancelled plans to send his "state of the union" message to congress on Thursday. He announced this report will be combined with the budget message to be sent up on Monday.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he would send these messages to Capitol Hill at the same time, contrary to the usual custom.

The president plans to meet with news and radio correspondents in the White House motion picture room at 10:30 a. m. EST. Saturday to discuss the budget features of the message with them.

Asked if the delay was connected in any way with the labor crisis, he replied in the negative.

Up 79 Plants; 200,000
In Walkout

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—A strike by 200,000 electrical workers—the largest single walkout of the reconversion period—today closed 79 plants of three companies manufacturing most of the nation's electrical appliances.

The strike—at General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors Electrical Division—stopped work on hundreds of devices unobtainable for the home or industry during the war. The government called for voluntary rationing of electrical equipment during the strike.

The walkout began at dawn after the companies refused to meet a $2 a day wage increase demanded by the United Radio and Machine Workers of America, third largest CIO union in the nation. Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, said effects of the walkout would be felt heavily by the electric utility industry, which "is badly in need of electric generating and distribution equipment."

The firms involved manufacture refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, electric stoves and other electrical devices.

The strike affected 100,000 General Electric, 75,000 Westinghouse and 25,000 General Motors employees in 16 states. In addition, many thousands of white collar workers, not affiliated with the union, were kept away from work by the picket lines.

Bases In Pacific
To Be Kept By U. S.,
President Declares

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—President Truman served notice on the world today that the United States intends to keep exclusive control for a long time of the Pacific island bases it regards essential for American security.

The president told his news conference this country will ask the United Nations Organization for authority to establish exclusive trusteeships over these islands, many of which were wrested from the Japanese by American forces at the cost of terrific casualties.

Islands not deemed essential to American security will be turned over to the UNO and collective trusteeships probably will be established over most of them, Mr. Truman said.

Steel Production
On Upgrade With
31,000 Still Idle

Pittsburgh, Jan. 15 (AP)—The number of steel workers idle in six states rose slightly to 31,000 today, but steel production continued on the upgrade pending the resumption of wage negotiations at Washington tomorrow.

President Philip Murray of the CIO United Steelworkers and Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel corporation, are to continue their wage conferences begun last Saturday. The nationwide strike of 800,000 steelworkers, originally set for last Sunday night, was postponed a week by Murray at the request of President Truman.

PACKERS FAIL IN EFFORT TO
AVERT TIEUPUNIONS TURN DOWN
PAY INCREASE OF 10 CENTS

By The Associated Press

CIO and AFL packinghouse workers began a nationwide strike today at 12:01 a. m. Eastern Standard Time, against six major packing firms and some independents, a walkout expected to shut off most of the nation's meat supply.

The strike, effective at 12:01 a. m., affected eastern plants first, an hour ahead of the packing houses in the midwest's Central Time zone.

With last minute negotiations ended in failure, union leaders called upon some 268,000 CIO and AFL packinghouse workers to quit their jobs in support of their demands for a 17½ cent an hour wage increase. The original demand was for a 25 cent an hour pay raise.

No Seizure Planned

Union leaders said the strike call involved 193,000 members of the CIO Packinghouse Workers of America and 75,000 members of the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen's Union.

At Washington, President Truman told a news conference yesterday there were no plans for seizing the meat industry.

An industry source estimated that the nine big packing companies on the CIO and AFL strike list produce about 60 per cent of the nation's meat.

Eleventh hour negotiations of federal conciliators, meat packers and union leaders failed last night. Edgar L. Warren, chief of the federal conciliation service, said the final pre-strike conferences "have not resulted in settlement of the dispute."

Warren told reporters that "During the course of the negotiations, the Swift and company offer was increased to 10 cents an hour (previous offer was 7½ cents). This offer was turned down by both unions."

Officials of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers announced they were going ahead with plans for a strike of 193,000 at the same time against nine big packers and several independents.

Conciliator Hopeful

The CIO demand for a 25 cents an hour wage boost, later scaled down to 17½ cents with further negotiations on the remainder, led to the strike threat. The AFL is seeking hourly increases ranging from 15 to 35 cents, a 90 cents an hour minimum and $36 for a 40 hour work week.

Edgar L. Warren expressed hope an agreement reached by nine smaller packing houses for a 15 cents an hour wage increase might lead the way for settlement of the issue on an industry-wide basis.

Both unions have called the strike against Armour, Swift, Cudahy, Wilson, Kingan, and Morrell packing companies.

PLANS ALL SET FOR ARC DRIVE

Solicitation Of Funds In Delta County Begins On March 1

Plans for the 1946 Delta County Red Cross drive which will begin on March 1 were completed last night when all division chairmen met in a session held at the Daily Press building for final pre-drive arrangements.

Solicitation of funds in the business districts of both Gladstone and Escanaba will be conducted in two days, March 1 and 2, and will be started in the residential districts of both cities at one o'clock on Sunday afternoon, March 3.

The township solicitations will also begin on March 1 and it is expected that they will be completed within the first few days of the month.

Other special divisions will be solicited also beginning March 1.

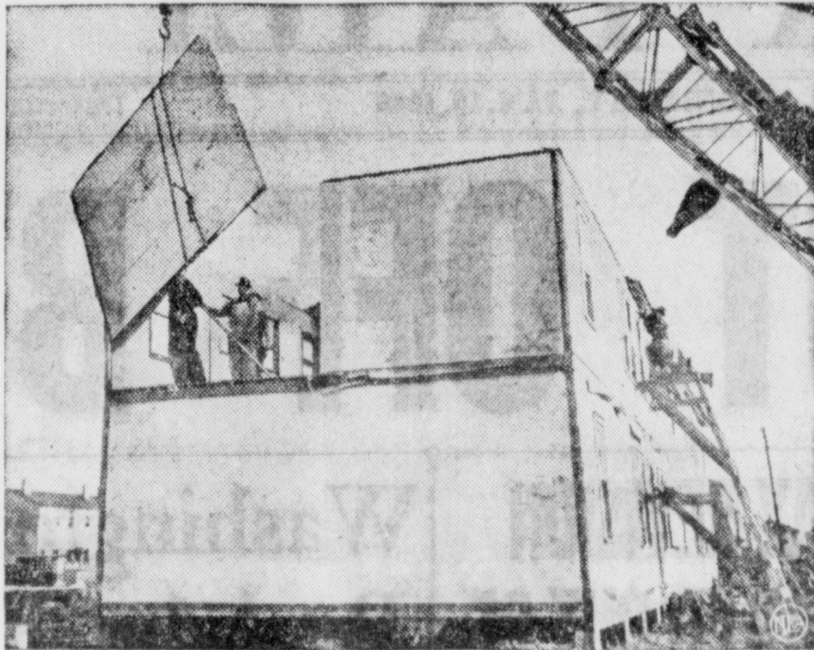

All chairmen are developing complete plans for their divisions and the drive is expected to be one of the fastest ever conducted, being designed to enable workers to complete their solicitations quickly and without putting in extra canvassing time.

Division quotas will be announced within the next few days and residents of each area of the county will learn the amounts expected to be raised to enable the 1945 drive to be as successful as it has been in other years.

DEMOUNTABLE UNITS HELP IN HOUSING PROBLEM

Temporary houses, built by the Federal Public Housing Authority to accommodate war workers, are now helping war veterans and their families to get off the "Homeless" lists. Of nearly 50 different types, the buildings range from single and two-family houses to three-story multiple dwelling units and complete Army barracks. They are dismantled, saved into standard 8-foot panels and shipped to areas where civilian home shortage is critical. During November alone, FPHA assigned more than 17,500 housing units for removal to colleges and cities to house veterans and their families. When they are no longer needed for veterans' housing, they will be made available to private purchasers. Photos show a typical demountable house used by war workers, and how such structures are dismantled for shipping. (NEA Photos.)

FORD AND CIO UNION ONLY 2 CENTS APART

Compromise Hinted

Union officials were unavailable for immediate comment on the Ford statement, which came after a day of reports that the Ford wage issue was to be settled on a compromise basis.

Ford, in his statement, declared, "the union realizes although the general public may not, that an increase of 17 1/2 cents an hour at Ford would bring our average hourly rate to $1.38 1/2 cents an hour, 26 1/2 cents an hour more than the present GM rate and seven cents an hour more than the average rate at GM even though that company were to agree to recommendations of the fact-finding board."

There were no developments today in the impasse between General Motors and the UAW-CIO. The union apparently was looking to the White House to make the next move in response to the strikers' request to the president that efforts be made to persuade GM to reconsider its refusal to accede to the Truman-endorsed fact-finders' recommendations.

The UAW-CIO has announced it will reinstate its 30 per cent demands unless GM reconsiders its rejection by next Monday.

GM reiterated today that it was "always willing to sit down with the union," but at union headquarters it was said there was no intention at present of seeking another bargaining session.

The fact-finders' 17.5 per cent increase recommendation, said a union official, is "not negotiable."

According to union computations the 175,000 production employees idled by the strike have lost $63,280,000 in wages to date. A company estimate places the figure at $71,792,000. The union computes the total on a 40-hour work week, while the company figures it on a 45.6 hour week.

Workers' Uprising Forecast in U. S. A.

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—William Z. Foster, national chairman of the Communist party, said at a 10th anniversary rally tonight that current labor activity "may develop into the greatest strike movement in the history of the United States."

"The United States is now experiencing the greatest wage movement in its history," he said, "and the movement shows every indication of taking on greater scope."

Foster predicted railroad unions would soon join others in demands for increased wages and declared: "There is now in the making either a great victory or a serious defeat for the workers."

Distress Call Sent Out By Liberty Ship Disabled With GI's

Boston, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Liberty transport Henry Baldwin bound for New York from Antwerp with 589 troops aboard today sent out a distress call from 300 miles southeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

Reporting a break on the starboard side of the after-deck after battering from heavy westerly seas, the craft called for assistance from the Navy's air-sea rescue service of the eastern sea frontier.

The transport is expected to be towed to Argentina for repairs, the Navy said, before proceeding to New York.

WORLD'S TOWN CRIER BENTON

'Ferd' Helps Information Chief Through Press Conference

By JANE EADS
(P) Newsfeatures Writer

Washington—A press conference with seasoned capital correspondents is usually an ordeal for any new government executive. For William Benton, assistant secretary of state in charge of information, it might have been a worse-than-usual ordeal except for Ferd.

Well-brushed and combed, his brow unfurrowed, his soft white shirt impeccable, Benton set off nonchalantly. A pen in an inkwell—as useless on this occasion as a miner's pick on a school-marm's desk—was placed just so on the table before him.

A 1,700-word release from the Department of State "for the press" was passed around. It was titled "Summary by Assistant Secretary William Benton on the four months' activities of the interim international information service, and the merger of its activities into the State Department on January 1, 1945."

Benton talked about handing out American news and radio information around the world. It's touchy business, Benton knows. He has to be careful that it isn't the kind of information that American news agencies and radio stations want to sell abroad. So he speaks guardedly.

Benton made a fortune in the advertising business and retired at the age of 36. He seems to know everyone. All through his talk runs mention of big-name men.

He dined with publisher Henry Luce. He lunched with Elmer Davis. He spent 33 days with Eric Johnston when the two were in London last year.

Aside from that, most of the reporters' questions, tossed like guerrilla grenades, were answered by Ferd. Ferd seemed to be up on practically everything, including how America can make the Balkans America-conscious.

A few people there knew who Ferd was—Ferdinand Kuhn, who had been in charge of the interim international information service. But many didn't. It became a laugh everytime Benton said: "What's the answer, Ferd?" and Ferd popped up with it.

To a number of people there Ferd was just a mysterious but very well-informed character.

One of the newsmen remarked quietly after watching Benton and Ferd perform:

"If Ferd were a race horse, it would have been written in the forms, 'Ferd out of Oblivion by Benton.'"

Marcel Mora, Chilean Ambassador to the United States, was feasted with a holiday party by members of the embassy staff upon his return to the capital from Santiago.

Many toasts were drunk in cola de mona, the national holiday drink. Cola de mona or "monkey's tail" has a milk base flavored with coffee and sugar and spiked with rum. (Even Chileans don't know the legend of the name.)

With the drink were served empanadas, flaky pastries filled with something like mince-meat.

Prevent Spoilage Of Stored Grain

College Station, Texas—A chemical treatment of stored cereal grains and cottonseed to eliminate costly spoilage may soon become a common practice, Dr. Aaron M. Altschul declared here today at a section meeting of the American Chemical Society. This advance, he said, is indicated by recent developments in the study of plant hormones.

Dr. Altschul is a biochemist in the New Orleans southern regional research laboratory of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, where intensive study is being given to methods of preventing deterioration of seeds during storage. It is an important problem because considerable spoilage takes place between harvesting and consumption, particularly in climates of relatively high temperature and humidity. Seeds deteriorate also when harvested under improper climatic conditions.

Although many factors influence biochemical activity in seeds, he said, moisture is by far the most important because it affects seed respiration and the resultant production of heat. Attempts to define safe moisture limits for seed storage have failed because conditions of growth, maturity and harvest also affect the subsequent behavior of seeds.

ENROLLMENT AT PEAK

East Lansing, Jan. 15 (AP)—Enrollment at Michigan State College for the winter term has reached a new high with 7,223 students in attendance, official registration figures released by Registrar Robert S. Linton indicated today.

Previous high enrollment was 6,996 in the Fall of 1940.

Slot Machines In Nevada Choked By Red Ration Tokens

(P) Newsfeatures

Reno, Nev.—Nevada cattlemen hailed the end of meat rationing with glee, but to the state's slot machine operators devaluation of red ration tokens meant just another headache.

Before the end of rationing, an occasional red token in a box full of dimes wasn't so hard to take. The collector just had little meat and butter on the table that week.

But now every token in the box means a dime lost and every dime lost means that much less meat and butter on the table—at least it would mean that in any other business.

Greatest victims of the token onslaught are machines in relatively isolated drug stores and grocery stores. Machines in heavily-patronized gambling clubs are usually watched by hawk-eyed money changers.

The money loss doesn't make the operators as unhappy, however, as the number of service calls coming at all hours of the day and night. Often, the tokens fail to act like dimes and plug up the machines' mechanisms.

OWNERS TAKE BACK GI DOGS

Few Canine Veterans Of World War Available For Adoption

By ARLENE WOLF
(P) Newsfeatures Writer

To adopt a dog veteran of World War II, you need a pretty good pedigree yourself. Dogs for Defense is giving potential masters a careful once over before entrusting them with the care of any of the few hundred canines which are not going back to their original masters.

In the first place, there aren't enough dogs to go around. Most of them are going back to their old homes, and a good many are being given to Army hospitals as pets and mascots for military convalescents. The Surplus Property Administration alone has received more than 16,000 requests for war-trained dogs, and the War Department estimates that of the 5,000 yet to be released from the Army, only 200 will go to new owners. Of 8,000 previously released, all but 289 went back to old owners.

What It Takes

So among the thousands who have applied, only a lucky few will have even a slim chance of getting a demobilized dog—if they pass the Dogs for Defense inquiry. Regional directors of the organization take full stock of a family before recommending it a proper adopting agent, and they rate the family group according to family unity, reliability, suitable yard space for the dog to play in, and ability to understand dogs.

When the would-be master passes that test and pays a minimum purchase price, he's sent a picture of his dog-to-be, and a record of the dog's history. After Fido arrives, the new master gets a pamphlet on the know-how of feeding the dog, commands, and instructions for general care.

However, no dog is being released until it has undergone the complete demilitarizing process, and no new owners will be considered until the former masters are given a chance to get the dogs back. The canines left without a home will then be declared "surplus," and the Office of Surplus Property, in cooperation with Dogs for Defense, will find suitable new homes. Regional directors of Dogs for Defense are likely to drop in anytime after adoption to make sure the dog is being treated properly and is happy in his new surroundings.

There's No Joy Or Music Among Beggars Of Rome

By FRANK BRUTTO
(P) Newsfeatures Writer

Rome (AP)—Musical trimmings have been discarded, and the art of begging in the eternal city has more than ever reverted to its basic elements—rags, dirt, sores and an outstretched hand.

The number of beggars is placed by municipal statistics at 20,000, including many professionals. Paupers in Rome are estimated at 150,000.

Until a few months ago the beggars included hundreds of pipe players from the hills, and scores of ragged boys and girls who numbed out swayed accordion music. These added a fillip to the business in the early days of Allied occupation when generous American and British soldiers could be seen any hour of the day disgorging lire notes.

But the throngs of Allied soldiers are gone with the music and the few soldiers who remain here have become hardened to the constantly outstretched palm.

A few months ago it was not unusual for a beggar to make several hundred lire and sometimes as much as a thousand in one day.

They don't make that now.

An elderly lady, who dresses comparatively well and gives the impression of stricken aristocracy, still restricts herself to via Condotti—Rome's Fifth Avenue. Half a year ago she attacked her prospects in French. Today she speaks Italian.

But the vast majority of the city's beggars—squalid women usually toting sickly children—now walk up and down the streets of Rome with an outstretched hand because it is too cold to sit unmoving for long hours. Those who used to contrive pathetic, silent portrayals of need have for the greater part deserted their posts.

Most of them, speaking to a foreigner, will say in Italian: "Paesano, please give us something."

But the most effective approach was that of an old man who stood stock-still and said simply: "I'm hungry."

Rise In Birth Rate Adds Eight Million

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—The census bureau said today that during the five years ending July 1, 1945, the population of the United States, including armed forces overseas, increased by 8,000,000. Population as of that date was 139,621,431.

The increase was attributed to the wartime rise in the birth rate.

There are 692 parks in the U. S. national capital.

THAW BENEFITS DEER IN WOODS

Light Snow Gives Herds
Chance To Roam;
Few In Yards

The recent thaw, followed by comparatively light snowfall, gives deer herds in Northern Michigan a chance of coming through the winter in good condition, according to Dorias Curry, Marquette, regional director of the conservation department.

In Delta county, and other counties in the southern part of the Upper Peninsula, conditions are better than they have been in past winters. Early snow storms forced deer into clear swampy yarding areas earlier than usual this year. While the snow was not deep enough to confine them there, additional snow would have greatly restricted their movement.

The warm weather made it possible for the deer to roam almost at will, and the recent snowfall has not been enough to push them back into the yards, it is reported by Howard Eldred, Escanaba, district game area manager. Conservation officers say the deer are now "scattered all over", and that it is possible they may not be restricted to the yards at all this winter.

There are about a half dozen major deer yarding areas in Delta county, including those at Kossow, west of Beaver and St. Nicholas; on Mosquito creek on the east side of the Escanaba river; a yard west of Fuller Park, and another a little farther west called the Nelson yard; and other on the Stontingon peninsula and north of Nahma.

Before the last snowfall deer were ranging freely over a wide area for feed, thereby conserving food supplies in the yards, which are the danger spots when the snow is deep.

Ex-Sheridan POW's Put Five Million Dollars In Treasury

German prisoners of war working at Fort Sheridan and Lake County, Mich., under its jurisdiction performed nearly eight million dollars worth of work in 1945, according to announcement made by Brigadier General John T. Pierce, Fort Sheridan's commanding general.

Working for private contractors in DePue, Cook and Lake counties of Illinois, all of Wisconsin and Michigan's upper peninsula, the prisoners' labor brought $4,949,427.01 into the United States Treasury. This money was paid to the Army for work performed by the prisoners at the prevailing wage rate for civilian labor.

Four out of five camps originally established in the woods of the upper peninsula of Michigan were still in operation at the close of the year. Raco near Sault Ste. Marie, was closed in August. Those still in operation but ordered to be vacated this week, are located near AuTrain, Port, Evelyn and Sidway. Prisoners working out of these five camps in force of the upper peninsula area, had earned $615,457.24 paid for their labor by private contractors during 1945.

Thirty-six camps were in operation during the peak in the state of Wisconsin. Only those at Fredonia, Rockfield, Genesee Depot, Billy Mitchell Field and Sturgeon Bay, were still in operation at the first of this year. Money paid into the United States Treasury by private contractors in Wisconsin, amounted to $3,268,105.50 in the 12 month period.

George Ranville, Pioneer Of Nahma, Dies In Chicago

George Ranville, 83, resident of Nahma for 38 years, died Saturday night of a heart attack at the Sisters of Mary Home for the Aged and Convalescent in Chicago.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edna Turek of Chicago, who accompanied the body here for burial at the Gardens of Rest yesterday morning, and two granddaughters, Laverne Turek and Mrs. Brissan of Chicago.

A requiem high mass was held at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning at the Sisters of Mary Home. Pallbearers were William Morrison and Joseph Farrell, former Escanaba residents, Frank Pietruske, Jacob Schmoltz, Mathias Diedrich and Adolph Sevek.

Burial arrangements here were in charge of the Allo funeral home.

Mrs. Turek left last night for her home in Chicago.

MALARIA FIGHT WAS HARD ONE

3 Shifts Of Scientists
Worked Day And Night

BY JANE STAFFORD

Urbana-Champaign, Ill.—For a three-week period, chemists at the University of Illinois here worked 24 hours a day, in three shifts, to speed production of a chemical needed for making the new anti-malarial drug, SN 7618.

The chemical is 4,7-dichloroquinoline. An original and simple method of synthesizing it was worked out by two of the university's scientists, Prof. Charles C. Price and Royston M. Roberts, in August, 1944.

Development of this simple method of synthesis made possible large-scale commercial production of SN 7618. Lack of such a method caused German scientists, who had also developed SN 7618, to discard it as an anti-malarial.

The existence of SN 7618 was kept secret until the first of this year (Jan. 4), when the Board for the Coordination of Malarial Studies announced that it had been developed and found much superior to atabrine for suppressing malaria. Its chief advantages are that it need only be taken once a week, instead of daily, to suppress malarial attacks and that it does not turn the skin yellow.

Further Details Follow

SN 7618 is known to chemists as a member of the 4-aminoquinoline series. It was one of some 14,000 substances tested for anti-malarial activity by American scientists during the war. Although German scientists had made and patented it before the war, it was not known in this country until scientists in an industrial laboratory here in the United States made it during the war-stimulated search for new malaria remedies. When first made in the industrial laboratory, however, the method of synthesis was complicated and unsuited for quantity production.

After Prof. Price and Dr. Roberts worked out the simple method of synthesizing the intermediate chemical, the 24-hour-a-day production schedule was followed until 20 pounds of this chemical was made. This was enough for 30,000 doses of the final drug and enough for the clinical tests needed to determine its efficiency.

Announcement of the important role of the Illinois chemists was made by Prof. Carl S. Marvel of the university's chemistry department who, as a member of the Board for the Coordination of Malarial Studies set up by the National Research Council, has been devoting a third of his time to the national anti-malaria project since July, 1944.

Working with Prof. Price on anti-malarial chemicals were more than a score of chemists, including Prof. Reynold C. Fuson, Prof. Harold R. Snyder and Nelson J. Leonard.

Dr. Fisher Injured In Auto Accident

Houghton—Dr. James Fisher, who recently retired as extension director of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology; Herman W. Rahn, director of the Houghton County Welfare Relief commission, and Elwin White of Ontonagon were injured, quite seriously, at 8:20 Saturday evening when a car driven by Warren M. Bell, assistant director of county relief, turned over on US-41 near L'Anse.

Dr. Fisher suffered several fractured ribs and probably internal injuries. Mr. Rahn received severe bruises on the right side of the face and a cut over the right eye. Mr. White, who is director of relief in Ontonagon county, suffered a fractured sixth vertebra. All received attention in St. Joseph's hospital in Hancock. Messrs. White and Rahn will leave the hospital today, but Dr. Fisher will remain for further observation and treatment.

The four passengers in the Bell car were returning from Escanaba where they attended a meeting of the Upper Peninsula section of the State Association of County Welfare boards. According to an investigation by the State Police at L'Anse, Mr. Bell applied the brake to slow down to pass a car which had stopped to make a left turn into L'Anse. As the brakes were applied the car skidded and turned over on the shoulder of the highway. Dr. Fisher and Mr. Rahn were pinned under the car.

AGED MAN KILLED

Iron Mountain—Gust Pederson, 83, 501 East C, resident of Iron Mountain for 63 years; shoemaker here and widely known in the city and district, was almost instantly killed; Carl Lindquist, 73, janitor at the court house, suffered a fractured left leg, crushed left hand and cuts and bruises about the head, face and neck, and Edmund Carlson, 71, 528 East A, was bruised and shaken up, but not seriously hurt, in an accident occurring at 5:45 last evening when the car owned and driven by Pederson left highway US-2 near the south Vulcan limits, crashed into a drainage ditch at the side of the road and jammed against a tree.

COPPER YIELD REPORT ISSUED

Lake Superior Region
Produces 91 Percent
Of Central States

Washington, D. C., (WNS)—Preliminary figures of the Bureau of Mines of the Department of the Interior show that the Lake Superior region in Michigan yielded 91 percent of the copper produced in the Central States in 1945, the Bureau announced.

The production of the Lake Superior region was 30,665 tons of recoverable copper in 1945, compared with 42,421 tons in 1944 and 46,764 tons in 1943, the Bureau reported.

The highest yearly production was 134,897 tons (smelter output) in 1916, and the average for the 100-year period ending with 1944 was 47,727 tons.

During this long period many of the mines on the most productive lodes were worked out or were worked to deep levels where mining became unprofitable, the Bureau said.

The mining depth in 1944 ranged from 400 to 7,000 feet on inclines of 30 degrees to 70 degrees and average about 4,300 feet.

One old shaft has an inclined length of more than 9,000 feet and a vertical depth of nearly 5,500 feet, or 4,200 feet below sea level, it was reported.

The Bureau said the extent to which output can be maintained in the future depends upon the price of copper.

The average total price for the mine output, including the Government premiums and increment from special prices, was 12.83 cents in 1942; 16.19 in 1943; 16.54 in 1944; completed data for 1945 are not yet available.

In 1945, nine mills treated about 2,928,558 tons of rock yielding 2,327 tons of copper, compared to 2,382,525 tons yielding 31,983.5 tons of copper in 1944.

Reclamation plants handled 2-154,600 tons of tailings in 1945, yielding 2,298 tons in 1945 compared with 3,027,713 tons of rock in 1944 yielding 10,437.5 tons of copper, the Bureau of Mines said.

The "Lindbergh Law," passed by Congress in 1936, provides a 10-year federal prison sentence for any person convicted of handling kidnapping ransom money.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

DICK: "I wonder how the distillers feel about that new movie built around an alcoholic."

OLD JUDGE: "It's funny you asked that, Dick...I was just reading a piece about it."

DICK: "What did it say?"

OLD JUDGE: "A very sensible statement. It said the beverage distillers are fully aware of this problem and are cooperating in every way possible to help solve it. The alcoholic is to the beverage distilling industry what the reckless driver is to the automobile industry. There is nothing wrong with the automobile, but in the hands of a man who doesn't know how to drive it or is reckless, it becomes a menace. Likewise, it's not the use but the abuse of alcoholic beverages that causes trouble."

DICK: "Wonder why it is most men can drink moderately and others can't?"

OLD JUDGE: "Intensive research at a great university has shown that most excessive drinkers are really sick people. They are suffering from some physical, social or emotional upset. And great strides have been made in developing clinical methods of helping these unfortunate people."

CITY FORESTER MAKES REPORT

Difficulty In Securing Stock Prevents More Planting

Difficulty in securing nursery stock resulted in fewer trees being planted by the city than were removed during 1945, the annual report of Robert L. Clayton, city forester, discloses, but this condition will be corrected by the development of the city's own nursery probably this year.

A total of 225 tree work orders were completed during the year and 328 tree inspection calls (requests from residents regarding care or treatment of tree diseases) were made.

Tree pruning for car and pedestrian clearance was completed on 291 city blocks in addition to pruning done for line clearance for the city electrical department on 271 blocks. The important pruning for line clearance was completed for the first time last year and prevents serious overcrowding and damage to electrical lines. A total of 87 trees in Ludington park were also pruned.

A shrub pruning project to eliminate traffic hazards was also completed during 1945.

Due to lack of equipment no spraying was done, the city forester reported.

A number of injuries to trees caused by windstorms, automobiles and children were repaired by the forester's crew.

Dead and diseased trees as well as others removed to prevent overcrowded conditions totalled 217. Of these 24 were on public lands in alleys, in parks and on the four foot strips inside sidewalks.

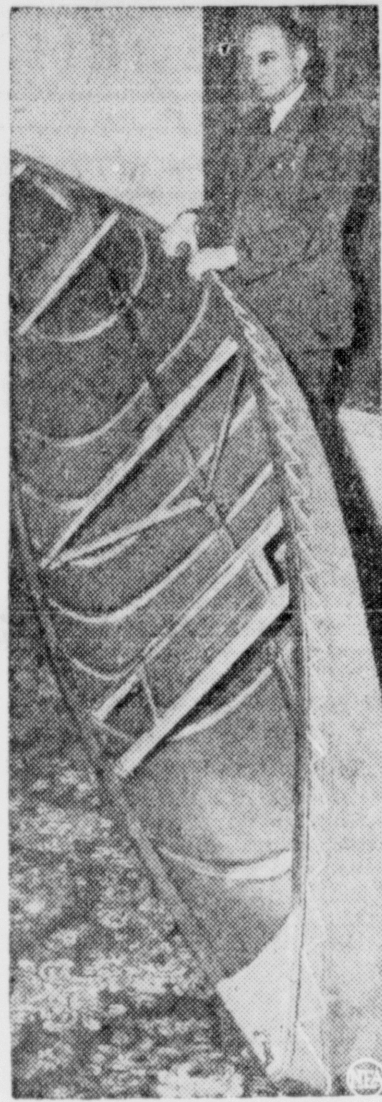

Of the 114 trees planted by the city forester's department during the year 65 were Norway maples, 25 were sugar maples, four red maples, 15 red oaks, five green ash and two American elms. Only seven trees (five Norway maples, one red maple and one sugar maple) were planted on city permits. Four red oaks and one weeping willow were planted in Ludington park.

Once during the growing season all street and alley shrubbery labeled as hazardous to automobile traffic was pruned.

The city forester reported no tree diseases of epidemic proportion during the year.

Development of the plot near the sewage disposal plant where the tree nursery will be established was accomplished through soil improvement, cultivation and fertilization and it is expected that trees will be set in this spring if they can be procured.

Clayton's yearly report shows 7,187 trees on city streets at the end of last year.

LOWER FEDERAL AID FOR ROADS

Start Of 1946 Michigan Highway Program Is Delayed

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler recently announced that until written assurance is received from the Public Roads Administration that additional federal aid funds will be made available, contracts will not be let for the state's full program for the first year.

A recent deficiency bill passed by congress appropriated only 25 million of a proposed 500 million dollars for federal aid road building funds to states for use in their first postwar construction year. The Public Roads Administration has assured the states that additional appropriations will be forthcoming.

Commissioner Ziegler has also expressed concern over the prospect that federal funds may not be used by the states for right-of-way purchases. This was permitted in 1944, but no assurance has been received that this will be the case in the future.

Plans are ready or nearly ready on several Upper Peninsula highway improvement projects which are expected to be included in the postwar construction program. Among these are:

Relocation of US-2-41 between Gladstone and Kipling, Delta county. Plans are completed for the project and the right-of-way has been purchased.

In Gogebic county, new paving between Wakefield and Bessemer. Marquette county—Grading and paving between Ishpeming and Clarksburg, a distance of about seven miles.

Chippewa county—Grading and paving from Wynn's Corner on M-28 west to Raco, about nine miles.

Baraga county—Plans nearly completed, but right-of-way not yet purchased for improvement of US-41 between Nestoria and L'Anse.

Rock

Union Ladies' Aid—The Union Ladies' Aid will hold its meeting at the home of Mrs. John Pokela on Thursday Jan. 17, at 2 p. m. Members are asked to take notice that the time of meeting is in the afternoon instead of evening as previously.

Services will be conducted at the Finnish Lutheran church on Sunday Jan. 20 at 10:00 a. m. and 7 p. m. by Rev. Amos Marvin of Gwinn. Lunch will be served in the church parlors after the evening meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. August Larson, Sr. celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, Jan. 9 with open house all afternoon and evening. A large number of friends and relatives from Rock and surrounding communities called on the couple during the day.

The luncheon table was centered by a large wedding cake and decorations consisted of baskets of chrysanthemums and gladioli, gifts of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson are pioneer residents of Rock, Mr. Larson being a pioneer merchant here.

The family of John Seppala of Rock has its first complete reunion since the death of Mrs. Seppala fifteen years ago, during the holidays. Three of the sons who have all been in service overseas, Emil, Weikko and Oiva, have received honorable discharge and were at home with their respective families, also Mr. and Mrs. Louis Seppala of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Waino Aalto of Detroit. Mr. and Herman Seppanen and Mr. and Mrs. Gust Aho of Rock attended the reunion.

Cpl. Jaakko T. Kamarainen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Kamarainen, Rock, has been promoted from the grade of private first class. Cpl. J. Kamarainen is a member of the 136th "Bearcat" Infantry Regiment in the veteran 33rd Division, a part of the occupational forces in General Walter Krueger's Sixth Army on Honshu, Japan.

Cpl. Kamarainen has recently received honorable discharge from the armed forces and is at home here.

Sgt. Joal Raine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Raine is home on a 60-day furlough visiting his parents.

Sgt. Raine has served overseas for almost 2 years in the European campaign, through the Belgian Bulge, Remagen Bridge, Ruhr Pocket and through Germany.

He received an honorable discharge but reenlisted for a period of 18 months.

New Demand For Small Posts Boosts Price Up To Ceiling

A new outlet for two and three inch posts following the start of operations of two ornamental fence manufacturing plants in Delta county is proving a boon to post cutters in this area, who previously discarded the small stuff because there was practically no market for it.

Both companies have reported they are unable to obtain all the small posts they need, and are encouraging cutters to turn out the smaller posts by paying ceiling prices. With this incentive it is hoped that the many cutters who have previously overlooked the small stuff will start getting it out, and that farmers who have a back forty in post timber will start cutting this winter to help ease the local shortage.

The two companies are the Fence Company of America, located in Escanaba, and the MacGillis & Gibbs company of Gladstone. Spokesmen for the companies reported that while there was some improvement in the supply, there was need of more posts to keep up operations.

Harold Arnum, president of the Fence Company of America, said that ceiling prices were being paid as follows: For peeled 2 inch posts, 11 cents; for peeled 3 inch posts, 17 cents.

A few years ago prices on small stuff were down to as low as 6 to 8 cents, and loblbers discouraged their production because there was no market for them. Arnum reported that dealers generally were stepping up the supply of small posts to meet local needs. Dealers find it hard, however, to buy and sell at ceiling or near-ceiling prices and come out on the deal.

Although the supply is so far limited, and the demand great, the post market in general is not disturbed because only the small 2 and 3 inch posts are used for fencing the two industries. The market in 4, 5 and 6-inch posts remains unchanged. This class of posts forms the bulk of the market.

The Fence Company of America is shipping about one carload of finished product per day, but could step up production to three carloads per day if enough 2-inch posts could be stocked. Within the next two or three months the company hopes to use about 6,000 posts per day.

14 CARS DERAILED

Marquette—Fourteen freight cars of the D. S. S. & A. railroad's east-bound train No. 22 were derailed or wrecked at the Sand River spur Sunday night. None of the crew was injured.

The accident occurred when lumber which worked loose on one of the flat cars struck the switch stand at the spur, throwing the switch and causing the pileup.

A wrecker crew reached the scene shortly after midnight, working in zero temperature and a snow storm to clear the right-of-way. The track still was fouled yesterday afternoon, South Shore traffic being routed over the Lake Superior & Ishpeming railroad's tracks from Munising Junction to Marquette.

BOTTLED GAS PLANT

Menominee—A bottled gas plant will be opened in Carney about February 1 by Alton Berquist under the trade name of the Hot-Flame Gas company. Berquist, who formerly lived in Carney and was graduated from Stephenson High school in 1936, is returning to Carney after several years' residence in Chicago.

Part of the equipment for the plant has arrived in Carney including gas tank of 18,000 gallons' capacity and rated the largest tank of its type in the upper peninsula. It is 54½ feet long, 8 feet in diameter and weighs 49,000 pounds.

MINES ON SCHEDULE

Ishpeming—It will be work as usual for the iron mines of the Marquette range Monday, as the threatened strike has been postponed, but some of the properties anticipated a relatively high percentage of absenteeism early this week.

Experienced observers believe some who have been outspoken in favor of striking might feel themselves obligated to make a showing.

Personals

Nahma, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. George Madden of Escanaba called on Sunday at the Nels Plude and Martin Kousbough homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jerou and Mr. and Mrs. Covet Pariseau of Escanaba spent Sunday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Antone Deloria and family.

Guests at the Richard Bjorkman home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson and Jack Holland of Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Strong of Menominee visited at the James Roddy home on Sunday.

Pete Hendricks, who is employed here, has moved his family from Green Bay. They will occupy the house recently vacated by the Tom Beaudry family.

Mrs. Grover Weber returned to her home from Manistique where she was receiving medical attention at the Shaw hospital during the past week.

Walter Bennette, who recently suffered a heart attack, is as well as can be expected.

Girl Scouts

A letter from the Field Director of the Red Cross has been received, complimenting the Nahma Girl Scouts on the Christmas wreaths which they made and sent to the hospitals at Fort Custer, Mich.

Part of the letter says: "The beautiful wreaths sent by the Nahma Girl Scouts were used in the patients' main dining room. They were needed very much to complete the decoration of the room. Will you please tell them for us how much they were enjoyed."

WILL GET APARTMENTS

Houghton—(AP)—Grover C. Dillman, president of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, announced today that work was expected to be started this spring on the erection of a 48-family apartment building and a 150-man addition to Douglass Houghton Hall, men's dormitories, to relieve the school's housing shortage.

An extension center for the college has been proposed, Dillman said, and the federally-owned 70 acre Fort Brady site and buildings at Sault Ste. Marie has been under consideration, he said.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Marquette—Harvey Mattson, 38, logging truck driver held in the Marquette county jail since October and awaiting trial in the February term of circuit court on a charge of murder, committed suicide by hanging in his cell Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Sheriff's deputies employed in the jail found Mattson's body late yesterday morning when they investigated to learn why he had not eaten his breakfast. Tearing a sheet from his bed into strips, Mattson had made a "rope." He fastened one end to the top of the cell door and looped the other end around his neck while he stood on the mattress of his bed, which he had doubled up and placed on the floor next to the door. After he had placed the improvised noose around his neck, he strangled himself by jumping off the mattress.

QUAKE REPORTS NOT ACCURATE

Forecasts Still Lack Scientific Basis, Says Macelwane

New York.—Earthquake forecasts, though often made and as often accepted by the unwary, still have no scientific basis, declared Dr. James B. Macelwane, dean of the Institute of Geophysical Technology at St. Louis University, in an address here today.

"From time to time articles have appeared in the newspapers about men who claimed to have arrived at a complete solution of the problem of earthquake forecasting. They give you long lists of supposed verifications to prove the success of their predictions."

"Some forecasters base their predictions on the influence of the moon, others on the relative position of certain planets, others on sunspot activity, and no doubt there are persons entirely sincere who are allured and deceived by a specious theory and by a series of apparent verifications, but who lack sufficient scientific background to make a critical appraisal of the factors involved."

Highly generalized predictions for general regions where earthquakes are frequent cannot be considered real predictions, Dr. Macelwane pointed out. For example, to say that an earthquake will occur in Japan next week is a perfectly safe guess to make, for Japan averages about two dozens quakes every week; but such a statement has no value as a forecast.

To be really useful, the speaker insisted, an earthquake forecast must be specific, giving time, place and intensity; it must also be reliable enough to justify public authorities in preparing for the predicted disaster.

Seismologists have hopefully followed such leads as the claimed "bunching" of earthquakes in cycles, and their supposed association with earth creep and earth tilt, but none of these efforts has paid out with really reliable results.

Dr. Macelwane's talk was delivered during the intermission period in today's concert of the New York Philharmonic—Symphony Orchestra. It was broadcast over the network of the Columbia Broadcasting System, under the auspices of the United States Rubber Company.

Blouses For Small Fry
Are Smart and SturdyBy EPSIE KINARD
NEA Staff Writer

New York—Now that the young fry are wearing crisp white blouses right around the clock, designers are solving the problem of supply with cottons that can take on either a knock-about or a party-going skirt, a pinafore, or a fancy jumper dress.

Grown-up styling bridges the gap between blouse types, and makes it hard even for little wisecracks to tell which is casual and which is dressy. Little copycats, aged 3 to 16, are captivated by adult necklines and worldly shoulder and sleeve treatment.

Mothers' discerning eyes, seeking out good hand-made detail that keeps little blouses in character, will be rewarded with fine stitching, smocking and impressive splashes of embroidery. What pleases mothers even more are the sturdy cottons used, which are as washable as canvas sails, but lose none of their pert appeals—as the two styles pictured prove—because they can take frequent laundering and hard wear.

Cotton balloon cloth, which proved its fighting strength during the war, makes the blouse for chubbies, aged three-to-six, shown left. It has a worldly string-drawn neckline, puffy sleeves and more grown-up appeal in peasant embroidery of multicolor braid.

Airline cloth, a sturdy warrior cotton, makes the wing-sleeved blouse with the tricky keyhole neckline, right—another Sally Mason design that caters to 10 to 16-year-old misses.

Herbal Eye Bath and Cream
Will Ward Off Crow's Feet

LOUISE FITCH: Bright-eyed.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Forestalling the odious appearance of the fine little wrinkles at the corners of the eyes is a perplexing problem for most of us. Louise ("Vivian Lady") Fitch, a former Council Bluffs, Ia., girl, who is one of New York's top daytime radio stars, learned long ago that the eyestrain and its resultant crow's feet which came from prolonged study of radio scripts, could be counteracted by special care.

If your job requires sustained use of your eyes, get in the habit of looking up from your work frequently. Gaze across the room or out the window for a minute to rest the eye muscles. Keep a bottle of herbal eye bath and an eye cup in your desk drawer and use it whenever your eyes feel especially tense and droopy.

At night a special eye cream should be one of your regular beauty aids. Pat the extra rich lubricant lightly on the thin skin around the eyes and let it remain overnight. Daytime, a bit of eye-lid oil will not only give your eyes a glamorous sheen, but will discourage wrinkles.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson, 1416 North Twenty-third street, are the parents of a daughter, born Jan. 3 at the family home. The baby, who weighed eight pounds at birth, has been named Sandra Sue.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Franz Hillus of Milwaukee on Jan. 13. The baby is the first in the family. Mrs. Hillus is the former Violet LeDuc of Escanaba.

Luxury stationery has a new idea now: two immense, half-page size script initials in opposite corners of each sheet. You may have gray, beige or light blue initials on fine white stock.

Isabel Trepanier,
Charles Stern Wed
At Iron Mountain

At a wedding which took place on Jan. 9 at the SS. Mary and Joseph church in Iron Mountain, Miss Isabel A. Trepanier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Trepanier of Green Bay, became the bride of Charles L. Stern, son of Joseph Stern, 420 South Tenth street, Escanaba. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. A. C. Pellissier.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece wool dress of winter-white with navy accessories, and an off-the-face winter-white felt hat. Her shoulder bouquet was of pink roses, and she carried a white prayer book. Her only jewelry was a gold cross and chain, set with a diamond, a gift of the bridegroom. Miss Marjorie Stern, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. She wore a two-piece aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Lt. Robert D. LeMense, cousin of the bride, who is on leave from Camp Bowie, Texas, was best man. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Trepanier chose a black ensemble with plum-colored accessories and a shoulder bouquet of red roses.

Yellow chrysanthemums and breath of spring were arranged in vases on the candlelit altar, and in baskets placed near the chancel rail. Mrs. Rudolph Gayan played the wedding marches, and accompanied Mrs. William F. Russell, the soloist.

Names of thirty guests who attended the wedding dinner served at the Chippewa club were inscribed in green on place cards decorated with wedding bells. A four-tier cake frosted in pink and white was the centerpiece of the table, which was decorated with pink snapdragons.

The couple left for Washington, D. C., where they will make their home at 4820 MacArthur Boulevard, N. W.

The bride was graduated from St. Joseph's high school, Escanaba, and was employed by the Wisconsin Telephone company at Green Bay. The bridegroom, who received his discharge from the army, served for three and one-half years, of which two and one-half years were spent overseas. He is employed by the Army Map Service in Washington. He was also graduated from St. Joseph's high school.

Miss Helen Noyes
Resigns Position

Miss Helen Noyes has resigned her position as Michigan State College extension service assistant state home demonstration leader, and leaves this month for Pullman, Washington, to be affiliated with the Washington State college extension service working as specialist in home management especially in the field of housing. She discards her work in Marquette Thursday, Jan. 24.

Miss Noyes is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she received her bachelor of science degree in home economics, and did her post graduate work at Iowa State where she received her master of science in home management.

Prior to coming to Marquette she was employed at Michigan State college, East Lansing, as specialist in home management, and came to the Marquette branch office three and a half years ago.

Miss Noyes is a member of the local unit of the American Association of University Women, and of the Marquette Business and Professional Women's club. She plans to motor to Washington.

JANUARY BRIDE—Miss Eleanor Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Campbell, 604 South Eleventh street, became the bride of Lt. Matthew R. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew G. Lewis, 311 First Avenue south. The wedding took place on Jan. 3 at St. Joseph church. Lt. and Mrs. Lewis will make their home in Escanaba. (Selkirk photo.)

Scores Are Close
At Bridge League

By L. W. OLSON
Play at the last regular meeting of the Delta Bridge League brought out some of the most interesting hands of the year. Play was fast and the scores were very close. Twenty-six boards of duplicate contract bridge were played and finished before midnight with the final results in doubt until the final boards were in.

One large section of pair play was held and the Lowell movement was used. In this movement every pair present plays directly against every other pair. This makes for a better game and interest is higher in this direct competition. Friday night we will have another pair game and hope to see all our old members and many new ones in attendance.

The League invites all the players in this district who are interested in contract bridge to come Friday night. We will do our best to help all new players and assure them of having a most enjoyable evening.

Pairs who scored better than 50 per cent last Friday night were as follows:

1. Mrs. E. Beck and Mrs. C. E. Johnson 64.36
2. 3. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ferguson 62.67
2. 3. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murdock 62.67
4. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dehlin 59.09
5. Mrs. T. C. Shanahan and Mrs. W. O. LaFond, 56.24
6. H. L. Holderman and A. S. Pearson 54.23
7. Mrs. R. E. Hodson and Mrs. F. Hoyer 52.35
8. Mrs. M. Rowe and Mrs. L. P. Treiber, 51.25
9. Mrs. J. E. Byrnes and Mrs. J. Shipman 50.00.

Lodges Hold Joint Meeting Tonight

VET COUNSELORApprove Resolution To Pay City's Share
In Project

A resolution making legal the appropriation of $1,300 for payment, in six monthly installments, of the city's part in the maintenance of a veteran affairs counselor and offices in Schoolcraft county, was voted at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening.

This and Manistique's interest in the power situation at Sault Ste. Marie, were the principal matters discussed at the meeting. The recent request by a carbon products manufacturing company at Sault Ste. Marie for a thirty year lease on all flowage rights on the St. Mary's river not used by a government hydro-electric plant soon to be constructed, was viewed with concern by members of the council and a delegation of members of the council was appointed to attend a meeting of members of boards and councils from various parts of the Upper Peninsula, interested in the matter, to be held at St. Ignace Thursday.

Radio interference, thought to be well under control, has broken out in new places, it was reported at the meeting. Ray McCarney, trouble shooter employed by the city, stated that the source of the trouble has been located, but inasmuch as it involves interference caused by overlapping power lines, the clearance of the trouble will be slow.

Alderman A. A. Heitman stated that since the trouble is caused by power lines it should be up to the light company to clear up this source of annoyance.

Peter Berger, in behalf of the board of education asked that a strip of land just north of the present high school football field be deeded to the school for recreational purposes. The specific purpose to which this property would be put, he stated, would be a field devoted to football practice and, during the summer months to tennis. The proposal was referred to the board of recreation.

A building permit was granted the local post of the American Legion to construct a side entrance to the basement of the Legion hall.

The application for a SDM beer license by Arnold Johnson was approved. The permit will eventually come through the state liquor commission.

A report by Frank Drydick, county sanitarian, showed that there are four cases of scarlet fever and 22 cases of chicken pox in the county at the present time. His report concerning the sources of milk for the city showed that in one or two cases the bacterial count in samples was unusually high. The council acted on the suggestion that Mr. Drydick be present at the next council meeting to discuss with them ways and means of enforcing sanitary regulations among producers.

Parents To See Students
At Work In Night Session

Elaborate preparations have been made for the open house program tonight at Manistique high school when parents will be privileged to see what goes on while school is actually in progress.

Students will report at 6:45 in the evening and the school session will be divided into three equal periods of 45 minutes each. These class sessions will be followed by a program presented by school students after which there will be a social hour and tea in the new gymnasium.

It is advisable that parents who intend to attend the session, discuss with their own children the names of the teachers to be visited and where those particular classes are located. Study hall supervisors have selected the following students to act as ushers during the three periods:

Fifth Period—June Grimes, Betty Carlson, Adele Gregorash, Ted Saunders, Lloyd MacDonald and Charles Gohat.

Sixth Period—Ronald Carefelle, Robert Thorell, Paul Larson, Margaret Burgess, Betty Carlson and Jean Smith.

Seventh Period—Van Mueller, William Cook Jr., Herbert Peterson, Jean Smith, Sigrid Nelson and Myrtle Salter.

Traveling Salon
To City

Under the auspices of the Rialto Camera Mart the annual Traveling Salon of "Popular Photography" magazine will be on display at the Gladstone public and school library and at the Camera Mart from Feb. 1-15.

Because of the size of the display, a portion of it will be displayed in each place and a change made at the end of the first week.

This is the third year that Rex Coulter, manager of the Camera Mart, has brought a Popular Photography salon to Gladstone.

The Salon features approximately 100 photographs representing some of the finest examples of contemporary photography, including the work of leading cameramen and amateurs from all over the world. It is heralded as one of the most outstanding photographic assemblies now touring the country.

A wide variety of subject matter, ranging from dramatic war pictures and human interest photos to serene winter landscapes, are highlights of the exhibit.

Of particular interest to the photographer is the technical data on each picture describing the type of equipment and camera adjustment involved in taking the pictures.

Earmark Money For Recreation Center

Five thousand dollars was earmarked for purposes of building a recreation center in Gladstone by the city commission in meeting Monday evening.

The commission asked the Recreation Board to prepare and submit plans suitable to requirements of the city.

Mason Meyer, chairman of the recreation board, said yesterday that a survey would be made in the immediate future and recommendations made to the commission.

At the present time there are two proposals: one, to rebuild and remodel the old city hall, taking off the top story, and two, to tear down the old city hall, salvage the lumber and construct from the ground up.

Suggestions as to needs of the community will be welcomed by the board, Meyer said yesterday. Suggestions should be made in writing, if possible, so that a file may be kept.

STURGEON IS
ROTE SPEAKERTribute Paid Franklin.
Story Of Printing
Is Told

Benjamin Franklin Week is being observed throughout the nation this week and tribute was paid the great American by Joseph A. Sturgeon at the regular luncheon meeting at the Fisher Hotel Monday noon. Mr. Sturgeon also gave a highly interesting talk on printing, using tools of the trade to illustrate his talk.

Franklin was born on Jan. 17, 1706. The speaker said it behooved us to rededicate ourselves to the sage philosophy of this great American, who had courage, fortitude and faith in our institutions. He then gave the following brief biography on Franklin:

"In 1727 he founded the Junto club, which developed into the American Philosophical society in 1743; the first subscription library in America in 1731; the first police force and fire company in the colonies about 1737; a system of street paving and lighting; an organized militia force, and an academy, which developed into the University of Pennsylvania, and in the same year a city hospital. In 1742 Franklin invented the Franklin stove, which he didn't patent because he wanted all the people to have the benefit of the increased heat and economy of fuel which it made possible. In 1752, by his great experiment with the kite, string and door-key, he proved the identity of lightning with electricity, which won him worldwide fame.

"Franklin is best known for his Poor Richard's Almanack, teaching homely lessons of economy and thrift, and for his autobiography, a model of its kind in exposing his wit, wisdom and foibles.

"He was first a printer, a writer and a patriot.

"And it was the print shop that provided him the training ground for the other talents which he developed."

Mr. Sturgeon then gave a clear, understandable talk on printing, illustrating it by showing type, linotype slugs, proofs, electros and tools used. He said the mechanical type setting machine or linotype is probably the greatest development in the industry.

Schools Helping
In Clothing Drive

Articles of clothing and shoes for overseas relief will be accepted in Gladstone schools and pupils are invited to bring articles for this purpose, it was stated yesterday by Rev. Glenn Kjellberg, local chairman of the nationwide drive.

Boxes were placed in the post-office and already many articles of clothing have been deposited there.

A house-to-house canvass will be made by Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts on Saturday.

Clothing contributed in Gladstone will be sorted and packed for shipment by members of the Gladstone fire department.

The goal of the national drive is 100,000,000 serviceable articles which are to be distributed for relief of peoples in Europe, China and the Philippine Islands. Drives have been organized in over 11,000 cities and towns of the nation. In addition to clothing, shoes and blankets are wanted.

Working with Rev. Kjellberg on the local committee are Elmer C. Olson, B. R. Micks, J. A. Sturgeon, H. J. Henriksen, Seymour Lewis and Walter Tang.

Persons contributing articles to the drive may place their names in the garments if they so desire.

CACTUS SOIL GROWS LETTUCE

Arizona Green Acres Proof State Isn't All Sand

BY RALPH DIGHTON
AP Newsfeatures

Phoenix, Ariz. — Two hundred fifty thousand green acres in the heart of Arizona testify that this booming baby state of the union isn't all sand, cactus and tourists.

One of the richest agricultural sections in the United States, the verdant Salt River Valley, in which this state capital is situated, sprawls between high, scenic mountains which shed the sparse rainfall on to potentially fertile soil.

By storing and scientifically distributing runoff waters, central Arizona farmers since the turn of the century have transformed an arid waste into vast fields of highly profitable grapefruit, oranges, lemons and lettuce.

Throne Behind the Power
Back of this transformation is a quasi-municipal corporation called the Salt River Valley Water Users Association. Virtually a government within a government, the association has taxing powers and holds biennial elections among its 16,000 landowner members.

Formed in 1903, as a government-sponsored irrigation project, the association has grown from a small green spot on Maricopa county's map — an area hardly larger than that once irrigated by prehistoric Indians along the salt river — to 250,000 acres. To this acreage flows each year 1,350,000 acre feet of water.

That's a lot of acre feet, and an acre foot is in itself a lot of water — enough to cover an acre of land to the depth of one foot.

All this could be done only by making the water available at extremely low cost. The average price of an acre foot of water supplied by the association, a non-profit organization, is $1.75. To visualize what this means in terms understandable to the owner of a 50-by-100 foot city lot, imagine paying only 60 cents for enough water to keep the lawn green all the year around. And this in a hot, dry climate where the mercury bubbles up to 120 degrees in the long summer and seldom falls below freezing in midwinter.

Lin B. Orme, president of the association and head of its 11-man board of governors, has spent most of his lifetime bringing the association to maturity. A charter member of the association, Orme now is in his seventies. The years rest lightly on his square shoulders, however, and Orme spends full working days in his basement office guiding the water users group through the endless difficulties bound to arise in a 45 million dollar corporation.

"Although our irrigation development is what you see first," says Orme, "and, although irrigation is the original purpose of our organization, the water project accounts for only about a third of our total investment."

"What you don't see, and what constitutes two-thirds of our investment, is our power development. In storing and distributing all this water, we found that we were missing a very good bet — electric power."

"We are the biggest power industry in the state. From our eight water power plants, and our one steam and one diesel plant, we produce 700 million kilowatt hours annually. Our gross power sales top four and a half million dollars a year. Aside from the big mines and industrial users, we supply 11,000 domestic customers — all rural."

"The local power company," Orme points out, "sells power at about one and a half cents per kilowatt, and that is in a closely populated area. We supply scattered rural areas for less than one cent."

Look to More Water

All this water and power comes from a system of dams along the Salt and Verde rivers which converge northeast of Phoenix. But not far away is another source of even more water and power — the Colorado river.

"It is quite an achievement, what we've done out here on the desert," admits Orme. "But it isn't enough. The farms now being irrigated need more water. And there are thousands of acres not now cultivated which are just as rich potentially."

"Millions of additional acre feet will be made available when the Colorado river development, held in abeyance during the war and now slated to be pushed fast with the release of building and construction materials, becomes a reality. There are some very serious legal obstacles to be surmounted, but if that much more water can be diverted to Arizona wasteland reasonably, I sincerely and honestly see no limit to Arizona's agricultural growth."

CONTACT UNIT AIDS VETERANS

Full Time Representative
Here To Assist Ex-GI's,
Dependents

Every possible assistance to discharged members of the armed forces and their dependents in obtaining benefits to which they may be entitled under the laws administered by the Veterans Administration is available here at the recently established contact unit of the administration which is located in Room 201 of the federal building, William E. Butler, Escanaba veteran of World War II, is the full-time contact representative here.

Laws administered by the Veterans Administration include Public Law 346, better known as the G.I. Bill of Rights, and Public Law 16, as well as others pertaining to medical, hospital and domiciliary care; compensation and pension; guaranty of loans; readjustment allowances; insurance and other benefits to which veterans or their dependents may be entitled by Congressional law which the Veterans Administration administers.

Mr. Butler will assist veterans in establishing Civil Service preference and filing claims for training, vocational rehabilitation and other benefits. He is also available to assist and advise any person, group or agency concerning veterans benefits administered by the Veterans Administration.

Any veteran, widow or dependent of a veteran who desires assistance in preparation of application forms, or who desires information regarding their rights or benefits is urged to communicate with the office here.

The office here will service Escanaba and the surrounding area in all matters pertaining to benefits for veterans and their families which are under the jurisdiction of the Veterans Administration. Correspondence from individuals unable to come to the office will receive prompt attention.

Office hours of the local contact unit are from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday; Saturdays 8 a. m. to 12 noon.

Mr. Butler served in the army from 1942 until September of last year. He was wounded in France while serving as a first lieutenant with the 30th Infantry Division and was hospitalized both in England and the United States.

Robert T. Edgar Special Assembly Speaker Thursday

At a special number of the Senior high school lyceum program, Robert T. Edgar, popular interpreter of science, will present a talk, "The Cyclops of Palomar," Thursday at 1:45 p. m.

The lecture will be given at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium, Junior high school, and will be open to Junior high students as well as Senior high students who are not taking examinations at the time.

Robert Edgar, whose father contributed much to making possible the use of the giant "eye" set high above the clouds on Mount Palomar, tells a unique and dramatic story.

The lecture is not an astronomy talk but is a factual and inspiring discussion of a great scientific achievement. Huge models of the "Cyclops" and other planetarium equipment are brought to the stage. He shows as well as tells through these models, making the workings of the telescope understandable to all.

Number Of Autos Damaged In Series Of Minor Accidents

No one was injured and there were only minor damages to several automobiles involved in four collisions here yesterday and Monday.

Unable to make a complete stop because of the icy pavement at the intersection of South Sixth street and First avenue a car driven by Mrs. M. B. Jensen, 602 Lake Shore Drive, slid into a coach driven by Leonard Lannaville, 216 First Avenue South, were slightly damaged Monday afternoon when the Krause machine backed from the Sixth street entrance of the Chevrolet garage and struck the Fleming car which was proceeding north on Sixth street.

Another mishap at the corner of Second Avenue North and Sixth street involved cars driven by Kenneth Trombley, 218 North 13th street, and Mrs. Alton J. Mallman, 316 South 15th street. Police officers who investigated said that Trombley was driving east on Second avenue when he struck the Mallman machine which was going north on Sixth street. There was some damage to the front ends of both vehicles.

In a third accident on Monday, Steve Staykovich of Wells struck a sedan driven by R. J. Cook, Escanaba, Route One, near the intersection of Thirteenth Avenue North and Stephenson avenue. Police officers said Staykovich failed to stop at the Stephenson avenue arterial when driving west on Thirteenth avenue and hit the Cook machine which was proceeding south on Stephenson avenue. A bumper on the Cook car and a fender, door, wheel and running board on the Staykovich machine were damaged.

and Miss Evelyn Delgard were Manistowish visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, daughter Lois and Donald Greene have left for Detroit after a visit of several weeks at their respective homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Fosgate and Donna Mae of Waukegan, Wis., arrived Friday for visits at the Axel Rasmussen and Ben Osdahl homes. Gordon Gierke, Sherman and Howard Gierke left Thursday to spend several days in Detroit.

OVID J. PROVO IS CANDIDATE

North Escanaba Resident
Seeks City Council
Post

The petition of some 180 Escanaba electors endorsing the candidacy of Ovid J. Provo in the April election of two city councilmen was presented to City Clerk Carl E. Anderson yesterday.

The terms of Councilmen Henry Wylie and Peter N. Logan, who have not announced whether or not they will seek reelection, expire this year. Mr. Provo is the first candidate to announce his intention to seek election to the council.

A life-long resident of Escanaba, Mr. Provo resides at 800 Stephenson avenue. He is 42 years old and is now employed by the Cleveland Wrecking company here but has been engaged most of his life sailing both on the Great Lakes and on the Michigan Straits ferries. He was employed for 14 months in the city fire department.

Mr. Provo is married and is the father of seven children. He is a property owner and taxpayer here. The biennial city election will be held here April 1 and candidates for city council must file petitions at least 20 days prior to the election.
